

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

• Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Don't you hate it when work gets in the way of your social life?

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about people's interests and backgrounds using a wider range of language.

Ask your partner:

- How stressed out are you by work or school?
- Do you think you have a good work-life balance? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about feelings and sensations.
- I can express possibility, certainty, suggestions and expectations.
- I can encourage agreement.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa is too much of a control freak to make time for anything outside work. She should change that!

* A "control freak" is a person who needs to control every detail of a particular situation.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hey, V! Did you hear that Peter got in touch with Camilla?
- Vanessa: He should've done it a while ago! Don't you think that her crush on him was impossible to miss?
- Sally: I know, but that's Peter we're talking about! She must've felt like he didn't care about her. Peter can be quite dopey sometimes.
- Vanessa: Well, at least his love life seems to be getting somewhere. Maybe I should follow in his footsteps.
- Sally: I would spend less time at the restaurant if I were you ...
- Vanessa: How am I supposed to do that! Being the manager of a trendy place takes a toll on your social life.
- Sally: You might be right ... You don't think you should take a step back perhaps?
- Vanessa: The only way I could do that would be if I hired an assistant manager.
- Sally: That sounds like a sensible idea!
- Vanessa: I've been thinking about this. I'm supposed to interview a few applicants next week.
- Sally: You don't sound convinced. What's stopping you?
- Vanessa: You know me! I like to control every aspect of the restaurant!
- Sally: Well, if you want to start meeting new people, don't you think you should come to a compromise?
- Vanessa: You might be right about that. I guess I could let go of my controlling habits ...
- Sally: That would be a good place to start!

Let's Practice!

It sounds great to me!

Instructions: Read the sentences. Choose the correct answer. Practice the completed sentences by saying them aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. His _____ seems to be getting somewhere.
 - a. love life
 - b. loves life
 - c. love lives
2. It _____ like you are not happy with your dating situation.
 - a. seem
 - b. seemed
 - c. seems
3. That sounds _____ a sensible idea!
 - a. likes
 - b. like
 - c. liked
4. You _____ sound convinced.
 - a. don't
 - b. doesn't
 - c. didn't
5. He seems to be too busy to go _____ on any dates.
 - a. at
 - b. out
 - c. in

Let's Practice!

What do you suggest I do?

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistake. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. He should has done it a while ago! _____.
2. She must have feel like he didn't care about her. _____.
3. I would spend less time at the restaurant if I wasn't you ... _____.
4. I guess I could let goes of my controlling habits. _____.

Extension Activity

Write a dating profile.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Make profiles of your classmates and put them in a pile.
- Get three profiles of other classmates.
- Try to convince your partner that one of the profiles is the right person for them.
- Use encouraging agreement language and feeling and sensation language. "He seems like ..." to convince your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about feelings and sensations.

☐ ☐

I express possibility, certainty, suggestions and expectations.

☐ ☐

I encourage agreement.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to take a toll (expression): to make someone's situation worse in a gradual way
e.g. Being the manager of a trendy place takes a toll on your social life.
- dopey (adjective): slow and confused
e.g. Peter didn't realize Camilla had a crush on him. He can be quite dopey sometimes.
- to follow in someone's footsteps (expression): to be inspired by someone to do something e.g. His love life is successful. Maybe I should follow in his footsteps.
- sensible (adjective): reasonable and wise
e.g. Ann: I should hire an assistant manager. Bob: That sounds like a sensible idea.
- convinced (adjective): completely certain about something e.g. I'm not convinced that hiring an assistant manager will solve my problem.
- controlling (adjective): dominating and commanding the actions of someone else
e.g. I guess I could let go of my controlling habits ...

Learning Points

Modals For Possibility, Certainty, Suggestions and Expectations

You use modals when you want to express possibility, certainty, suggestions and expectations.

Modal Verb	Use/Meaning	Form	Example
might can/could may	To express possibility in the past, present or future *Can is only used to talk about the present and future (not the past)	- might / might not + verb - could / could not + verb - may / may not + verb	Peter can be quite dopey sometimes. You might be right about that. I guess I could let go of my controlling habits. must	To express that something is necessarily true	must (not) + verb	She must have felt like he didn't care about her. should could might would	To express suggestions	modal + verb	You should come to a compromise. That would be a good place to start, don't you think? He should have done it a while ago.
supposed to	To express expectation	supposed to + verb	I'm supposed to interview a few applicants next week.

Learning Points

Negative Questions To Encourage Agreement

Negative questions are another way to confirm information you already know. Using a variety of structures gives your speaking a more sophisticated feel.

Negative questions can begin with the structures:

Don't you think ... ?

Isn't it right that ... ?

You don't think ... ?

Wouldn't it be better if ... ?

Doesn't that mean ... ?

Examples:

- Don't you think you should come to a compromise?
- You don't think you should take a step back, perhaps?

