

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

You shouldn't hang up now! The phone is ringing!

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about people's interests and backgrounds using a wider range of language.

Ask your partner:

- What are you afraid of the most? Why?
- What situation is the most comfortable and natural for you? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about feelings and sensations.
- I can talk about things I am supposed to do and things that are supposed to happen.
- I can express possibility and certainty.

Let's Explore!

Sally tells Peter to get a clue!

* When you need to "get a clue" you need to understand how something works.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hey, Peter. Did you call Camilla like you said you would?
Peter: Not yet ... You know me. I start dialing the number, but I chicken out before she can answer.
Sally: You're not in high school anymore, Peter! You're supposed to be able to handle this kind of situation, don't you think?
Peter: I'm just paralyzed when it comes to speaking to girls on the phone.
Sally: There must be something you can do about this phobia of yours. Don't you want to let Camilla know that you've been thinking about her?
Peter: Trust me, I've been trying to work this out.
Sally: Well, I can't say I've noticed a big change so far.
Peter: I have an idea! You could call her for me and mention the fact that I'd like to go out with her sometime!
Sally: How am I supposed to do that? It wouldn't sound natural at all.
Peter: Come on, help me out here! I'm sure you can make it sound spontaneous. You're the writer, not me!
Sally: Hang on ... That's it! I could write you a script! Don't you think that might work?
Peter: Alright ... So, am I supposed to read it like an actual conversation?
Sally: Of course! It's all about the delivery! You might want to rehearse for this.

Let's Practice!

What is Peter supposed to do?

Instructions: Mark all the grammatically correct answers. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- ☐ You're supposed to be able to handle this kind of situation, don't you think?
- ☐ How am I supposed to do that?
- ☐ So, am I supposed to read it like an actual conversation?
- ☐ I are supposed to go out on a date Thursday, but I can cancel it.
- ☐ Weren't you supposed to be at home at 8:00 pm?
- ☐ You was supposed to phone me yesterday.
- ☐ Men are suppose to pay for dinner.

Let's Practice!

Sally and Peter talk about the possibilities!

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B. When you complete the sentences, read the sentences aloud with your partner. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. You could call
2. I could write
3. You might
4. It wouldn't sound
5. I'm sure you can

COLUMN B

- a. her for me.
- b. you a script!
- c. make it sound spontaneous.
- d. natural at all.
- e. want to rehearse for this.

Extension Activity

Give dating advice to a friend.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Brainstorm ideas on things to do on a first date.
- Write a paragraph giving advice to David, who is going on his first date with a girl he met online.
- What should he do and what is he supposed to do?
- Include ideas on activities he could do in your community.
- Exchange with a partner and edit each other's paragraphs.
- Add some more ideas about things to do.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about feelings and sensations.

☐ ☐

I talk about things I am supposed to do and things that are supposed to happen.

☐ ☐

I express possibility and certainty.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to chicken out (verb): to back out of something at the last minute
e.g. I start dialing the number, but I chicken out before she can answer.
- paralyzed (adjective): unable to do anything out of fear
e.g. I'm paralyzed when it comes to speaking to girls on the phone.
- phobia (noun): intense fear of something e.g. There must be something you can do about your phobia of speaking on the phone.
- to mention (verb): to refer to something without going into detail e.g. You could call Camilla and mention the fact that I'd like to go out with her.
- spontaneous (adjective): natural and genuine e.g. If I call Camilla, I won't sound spontaneous.
- delivery (noun): the vocal and bodily behavior during a speech e.g. Delivery is very important when you read something.
- script (noun): a written speech, text or play
e.g. If you don't know what to say, I could write you a script.

Learning Points

Modals For Possibility, Certainty, Suggestions and Expectations

You use modals when you want to express possibility, certainty, suggestions and expectations.

You use might and could to express possibility in the past and in the future . Can is only used to talk about possibility in the present and future.

Example:

I'm sure you can make it sound spontaneous.

I can't say I've noticed a big change so far.

You use must to express certainty.

Example:

There must be something you can do about this phobia of yours.

You use should , could , might and would to express suggestions.

Example:

You should call her for me.

You might want to rehearse for this.

I could write you a script!

When you want to express expectation, you can use supposed to .

Example:

How am I supposed to do that?

Learning Points

Negative Questions To Encourage Agreement

Negative questions have a different meaning than regular questions.

You use negative questions to confirm information you already know. It is another way to keep the conversation going. It is also a more indirect way of letting the other person know that you already know the answer.

Look at the chart for some phrases that begin a negative question:

Phrase	Example
Don't you think ... ?	Don't you think that might work?
Don't you want ... ?	Don't you want her to know that you've been thinking about her?
Isn't it true ... ?	Isn't it true that you've been thinking about her for ages?
Wouldn't you like ... ?	Wouldn't you like to know what she thinks about you?
Aren't you ... ?	Aren't you curious about what she thinks of you?

